

“Idaho launches anti-meth contest for teens”

Idahostatesman.com

April 20, 2010

"Paint the State" is a public art contest that aims to get creative help to promote The Idaho Meth Project's prevention campaign.

Idahoans ages 13-18 can register for the contest at www.PaintTheStateIdaho.org. The deadline is June 18. More than $135,000 in prizes will be awarded, including $5,000 for the winner.

At right, Meridian Technical High School students Jonathan Vaughan, 16, left, and Jake Fullilove, 17, sit in front of artwork produced by classmates during the project's kickoff event at their school Monday. Vaughan and Fullilove showcased their award-winning anti-meth public service video.